Call Format: By now you should have downloaded and read the BPC Mastermind Principles and Guidelines in order to be familiar with how the MM calls are conducted. To recap: The group leader will randomly assign a number to each person as they arrive on the call, and will open each meeting by reading the 7 mastermind principles and the dedication and covenant. Then the call will proceed with each member sharing a quick “WIN” for the week, followed by each member having the opportunity to discuss their goal and request support and feedback for the week. We will attend and lead your first call.

Additional Tips: It’s important that everyone has an equal opportunity to express their wins and to request MM support (i.e., referrals, resources, suggestions, ideas, personal experience, etc from other members of the group) – and to receive feedback. The role of timekeeper is extremely important in keeping the call on track so that everyone has the opportunity to participate. As time permits, you can also designate a period of time at the end of each call for a group discussion of the materials being studied or the topic recommended in your weekly Coaching Newsletter. At the end of each call, make sure you’ve agreed who will serve as Group Leader, Time Keeper and Note Taker for the next week’s call.

One last note – remember that our primary role in any mastermind is one of giving, of making a contribution toward the support and success of our peers. We are richly blessed by honoring that commitment to one another.

We look forward to assisting you in this important process!

Kindest regards,
